EP Ducati Scrambler 1100 Pro Oil Cooler Guard: A Must-Have Upgrade for Motorcycle Enthusiasts

Why Your Ducati Scrambler Needs This Guardian Angel

Imagine riding your Ducati Scrambler 1100 Pro through rocky terrain when a rogue stone decides to play darts with your oil cooler. That's where the EP oil cooler guard steps in - like a medieval knight's armor for your motorcycle's vital organs. This CNC-machined protector isn't just about looking tough (though the black powder coating does give it that secret agent vibe), it's about keeping your ride alive when the road gets rowdy.

Engineering Meets Italian Craftsmanship

Aircraft-grade aluminum: The same material that keeps fighter jets airborne

Plug-and-play installation: No need for mechanical PhDs - uses existing mounting points

Smart airflow design: Protects without choking your engine's breathing

Installation Made Stupidly Simple

Remember that IKEA shelf that defeated you last weekend? This isn't that. The kit includes:

Precision-cut guard with military-grade fasteners

Pictorial instructions even your coffee-addled brain can follow at 6 AM

Zero modification required - fits like it grew there

Pro tip: Installation takes less time than brewing your morning espresso. Seriously, we timed it.

Real-World Protection That Pays for Itself

When a BMW GS rider recently tried this guard:

Survived 3,200 km of Moroccan desert abuse

Deflected 14 direct rock impacts that would've totaled the oil cooler

Maintained optimal oil temps even during 45°C heatwaves

At $1,211.21 + shipping, it's cheaper than replacing a single radiator fin array. Your Ducati's oil cooling system costs more than your first car - protect that investment!

Global Shipping Without the Headache

While delivery estimates show 12-21 days from Australia, most riders report receiving theirs in 8-10 working days. Just remember:

Customs fees? About the price of a decent craft beer

Tracking number provided - no "where's my package?" anxiety

30-day return policy (though nobody's ever used it)

Final thought: This isn't an accessory - it's mechanical insurance. Your Scrambler deserves the EP treatment, and let's face it, you deserve the peace of mind. Now go ride like you mean it.
